Butte Woodmen Will Enter Coast Drills

Seventeen uniformed Woodmen of the world were in Ogden yesterday morning for a short time, en route to San Francisco from Butte, Mont., for the purpose of participating in a competitive drill with twelve other drill teams from various parts of the United States.

The men were members of Lodge 153 of Butte and were under the leadership of Captain J. W. Krahler. Captain Krahler stated that his team were drilled to a high edge and were confident that they would "bring home the bacon."

PUCINI BRINGS OUT HIS NEW TRIPLET OPERA

FLORENCE—Signor Puccini has conducted here the first performance of his opera, "Trittico" (meaning Trifurcated), which consists of three short one-act operas, all different. First is "Il Tabarro" (the cloak), next "Suor Angelotta," a pathetic, beautiful story, the scene being a convent, and last is a nineteenth century satirical comedy. Puccini is going to London to conduct "Trittico," with the same leading artists.

Between the national capital and the Gulf of Mexico there are 22,000,000 acres of unused lands.

Fishers Luck Tough Advice Galore He Gets Nary a Fish—Not One

By AL WARDEN

Sambo went fishing, but unlike most fishermen he failed to have the usual fisherman's luck. Bright and early on the morning of June 15, about 3 bells in the morning and a few hours prior to the break of day, he awakened, dressed quickly, obtained his fishing materials and was ready for the first nibble, but to and behold, for an entire day he swung the rod here, there and everywhere without the slightest resemblance of a bite.

It was his first experience. Every where he went the old "heads" would give advice. One was heard to remark, "what are you fishing for, what? You have enough sinkers on your line to catch 'em."

After such a remark he sauntered to another spot, peered around, and seeing that he was alone, quickly removed the sinkers from his line, invading another part of the stream minus sinkers he again started on his rampage for the limit, only to again receive advice. The advice this time was of a different nature. Yep, an elderly gent, with years of experience asked: "What kind of bait are you using?" Sambo replying that he was using "worms."

Someone Else Pipes Up.

"Yer all wrong, me lad, all wrong. You should use a fly."

Again he took to the timbers to change bait and soon returned to the stream eager for a catch. Yep, and he really thought he had one for a minute but after tugging and pulling at the line it developed to be only a "snag" and his hopes were again shattered.

Downhearted and cursing and everything, he started down stream prepared to say adieu to the sport when his eyes suddenly caught sight of a fellow fisherman darning in a bright red sweater and khaki trousers. In an instant his heart throbbed for this gent had one about a mile long on his pole, one of those kind that makes a fellow's heart go pitty pitty pat, and amazed, he asked, "How did you do it?"

He Knew How

"It's all in knowing how," replied the stranger.

For an entire day Sambo jaunted from one end of the stream to the other but his luck was not forthcoming. He finally returned home, obtained a pair of first class spy glasses, and endeavored to locate said fish with them, but the glasses not being used to such use, failed to work and he again was out of luck.

With night fast falling he prepared for his final effort but it was useless. He had spent an entire day and had failed to even get a nibble, and downhearted returned to his camp, but eager for a second and last attempt.

Remarkable Dream

During the long hours of the night he had a remarkable dream, at least he says it was remarkable, for he could see nothing but fish, fish, fish, and before he awoke, he had caught many times the limit, and it is said that some of the speckled beauties even pleaded with him to take 'em along.

The dream evidently gave the newcomer an idea for on his second day he really did see a number of the choice ones but they failed to ask to be removed from the silvery waters. He would have used salt, but none was to be had so he resorted to the line again.

After seven hours of hard work, walking here, there, and everywhere, he got a hunch and with a side kick, hurried to a secluded spot.

"If the old fish yarns are true, and if this place is loaded as it should be according to Hoyle, I have an idea that I am in for a great catch," said Sambo.

With his partner at his side the nibble was finally forthcoming. It was just 8 bells on the eve of the second day and Sambo had but fifty-five minutes left with which to pull one out. He struggled for twenty minutes with his first nibble, finally calling for help.

Three score fishermen with reed-rod catches answered the call and at exactly 8:55 o'clock the entire crew aided Sambo in making his first catch.

Whew, just imagine taking fifty-five minutes to pull a live one from the stream. Oh, boy, that's when a fellow needs a friend. But the catch was made and the fish landed.

Yep, and it was some fish, according to Hoyle, requiring three score and one man to make the catch, but the choice beauty when measured, weighed and everything was but five inches in length, weighed but four ounces, and according to Buck Anderson and some of the Game Wardens, was under the size, and so after two days of hard labor and everything, Sambo threw down his pole and said, "Oh, what's the use?"

ALHAMBRA TONIGHT 'THE COST' APPEALING

Violet Heming Featured in a Strong Picture

The tragedy of love when it is bestowed upon an unworthy object is shown tellingly in "The Cost," the Paramount Arctcraft picture featuring Violet Heming which will be on view at the Alhambra theatre for two days commencing tonight. However, the photoplay is by no means of a depressing character, abounding in jolly scenes of small town and college life and carrying a happy ending to send you away smiling.

The story concerns Pauline Gardner, daughter of a distinguished couple. Despite the opposition of her father and warnings of her friends, she marries John Dumont while she is still in boarding school. Too late she meets Hamilton Scarborough, who falls in love with her. Dumont proves a cad and unfaithful and Pauline is about to sue for separation, when her husband, who is a big factor in Wall Street, is caught in a panic. She comes to his rescue with her resources. But the strain is too much and Dumont dies. Scarborough thereupon claims Pauline.

Ralph Kellard, Carlotta Monterey, Edwin Mordant, and Warburton Gamble are in the excellent cast with Miss Heming. Harley Knoles directed and it is a Paramount Arctcraft picture.

Added to this fine production, The Hall Room Boys' greatest comedy.

Harold Lloyd May Appear in Ogden

Harold Lloyd, famous screen comedian, will be an Ogden visitor for a few hours July 6, according to information given out at the union depot yesterday by Charles Putman, a member of the reportorial staff of the Los Angeles Times. It is probable that Lloyd will be seen in person at one of the local theatres.

Lloyd is one of Charlie Chaplin's greatest rivals and is making a hit over the movie world, starring in Pathe comedies. Putman stated yesterday that Lloyd would make several pictures in the east, two features to be taken at Atlantic City.

Dr. A. V. Harris Defines Chiropractic

Chiropractic is a progressive science, and must go on progressing. It cannot stand still. Since Chiropractic was established in this country by D. D. Palmer, it has progressed from the old one-minute punch and the rest couch to where it now stands at the head of all drugless methods, yet the same old method is clung to by some of the less progressive practitioners and schools, who are trying to show progression by taking an X-ray picture of dislocated vertebrae, which becomes so soon as the first adjustment is made, absolutely useless.

A modern Chiropractor has his fingers trained to such a perfect degree that he can absolutely tell just what each adjustment has accomplished, and from day to day, he is able to keep track of the improvement made by his patient.

The Rest Couch dwindles into the darkness in the modern Chiropractor's work, as the muscles are relaxed before the adjustments are made.

While the old methods taught speed to the tune of six patients a minute, the Modern Method requires at least six minutes to the patient.

A few minutes of your time will convince you of the beneficial difference the same as it has convinced hundreds of others.—Advertisement.

"Daddy Your Arm Feels Just Like Iron"

Physician Explains How Strong Muscles and The Robust Health of Rugged Manhood Depends Upon Having Plenty of Iron In The Blood—Tells How

NUXATED IRON HELPS MAKE KEEN, RED BLOODED SUCCESSFUL MEN

Upon Whose Shoulders Rest Lightly The Cares Of Business and Home Life

Only the father who has felt the gentle clasp of tiny fingers about his strong arm, who has seen in the great expressive eyes of his little daughter the shining light of supreme faith and has sensed her feeling of perfect confidence and child-like admiration for him—only such a man can truly know the meaning of perfect "hero worship." And what pride comes to that man who has been able to keep up his health and strength to a point where he can continue with force and courage to master the difficulties of his daily business life without being too tired and nervous for a happy evening at home.

Yet there are many who in the wear and strain of hard work and worry for the families they love allow their systems to become weakened and run-down until the iron is sapped from their blood, and before fully aware of their condition they lose the role of a hero and protector to become simply a care to the ones they hold most dear.

"If such men would only realize in time that they must have pure red blood, rich in iron—to keep up their health and strength and would take a short course of Nuxated Iron, they might readily build themselves up to a most surprising degree," says Dr. H. V. Wall, former Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, in commenting on how modern methods of living tend to break down the health and weaken the blood. In the present day mad rush for success, these men push their mental energies to the limit without the physical strength to back them up. As a result, they are back then up, a result, red blood that sends fires of energy through body and brain and makes men forge ahead.

I strongly advise every man who is fagged out by worry, work and other strains to build up his health, energy and endurance by taking some form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for I consider it one of the foremost blood and body builders, the best to which I have ever had recourse. Dr. T. Alphonsus Waller, a physician of many years' experience and formerly of the British Naval Medical Service, in commenting upon the foregoing statement said: "Without iron there can be no strong, red-blooded men. In the wear and tear of modern business life, when the vital forces are being constantly drawn upon, many men find themselves without the sustaining strength produced by the nourishing foods kept up the supply of iron in their blood. As a consequence they find themselves on the verge of a physical and nervous breakdown at a time when they should be enjoying their best years. Unless strengthening iron is obtained from the foods we eat it must be supplied in some form that is easily absorbed and assimilated. For this purpose I always recommend Nuxated Iron which by enriching the blood with iron, the blood cells, strengthens the system, renews energy and helps to insulate the nervous system. Nuxated Iron, which is recommended here is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to everyone. The clear, colorless, iron solution it is easily absorbed and does not irritate the stomach. Each bottle contains 100 capsules. Each bottle and the words Nuxated Iron are stamped on each bottle, so that the public may not be led into purchasing inferior substitutes. The measure results to every purchaser as they will find your money. It is discussed by all good doctors.

OGDEN SCOUTS TO TOUR PARK

Will Radio This Paper News of Daily Events for Home Folks

One hundred members of the various Boy Scout troops of Ogden will depart from here July 29, for Yellowstone park where they will spend two weeks in training. The scouts will be accompanied by Scout Executive G. A. Goates, Dr. Charles Flummer, G. A. Hergstrom, "Dad" Steele, D. B. Foulger, W. Rockefeller, a park naturalist and a game warden from the park.

News of the doings of the boys in camp will be wirelessly to the Standard-Examiner daily from points in Yellowstone thus giving the members of the organization at home first hand news. The news will be wirelessly by the scouts.

The scouts will hike through the park following old trails and will in that way get in close touch with nature. The equipment for the boys will be sent ahead from Ogden in trucks. Movies of the entire two weeks trip will be taken and will be shown at a local theatre.

TO TELL THIRD PARTY'S AIMS

Howard Williams Will Deliver Address at Central Park Tuesday

The purposes and aims of the third political party of Utah will be explained to citizens of Ogden Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Howard Williams, first vice chairman of the Committee of Forty-eight will speak on the lawn in Central Park. Consolidation of the socialist and propaed labor parties is said to be the keynote of the new party. Mr. Williams spoke recently in Salt Lake at a meeting which culminated in the formation of the new party in Utah. In his address Mr. Williams called attention to the fact that "the new party is successful throughout the country, one of the other two parties is bound to be knocked out for the people are tired of being misinformed about the true situation and want a president who will give them a square deal."

It was announced that persons wishing to be delegates to the national convention of the Committee of Forty-eight at Chicago can receive credentials from the local organization by signing the committee's pledge. The convention, Mr. Williams said, will vote by the electoral system.

The United States navy took up more than $5,000 mines in the Atlantic less than six months after the armistice.
